

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S GROUP

*It was a proud moment
for CWG Chairwoman Marion O'Shea
and Treasurer Pat Mawer
who were invited guests when Archbishop Vincent Nichols generously hosted an evening to meet those who had raised funds for the Thai Children's Trust.*

A video of the Archbishop's speech can be found at Over 30 years ago a baby was left on the doorstep of a Catholic priest in Pattaya. Father Ray Brennan took the child in, and with this single compassionate act the Thai Children's Trust was born.

The CWG have raised money for some years for The Father Ray Special Needs Centre in Pattaya – a day care centre for young people with disabilities, offering them support, educational activities and physiotherapy. and now sponsor a child's education.

Funds raised help refugee children and families along the Thai-Burma border, children with disabilities, children at risk, street children, orphans who live in extremely chaotic circumstances, children with HIV and Aids.
